DEATHS YESTERDAY

Six Alexandrians (Five White and One Colored) Pass Away Early Yesterday.

While the friends and acquaintances of Frank Larmond were expressing their regrets to hear of the frightful accident which caused the death of the veteran engineer and his fireman, three more Alexandrians, it was learned, had passed away during the early morning hours.

John R. Edelen, 71 years old, Son of the late Robert Edelen, died suddenly yesterday morning at the home of his cousin, 4033 Kansas avenue, Washington where he was visiting. Heart trouble is thought to have been the cause of death. The deceased was a carriage builder by trade and head of the firm of John W. Summers Company, carriage builders, of this city. The body was brought here and taken to Wheatley's mortuary chapel and prepared for burial.

TURKEY AND BULGARIA.

Kaiser's Visit to Constantinople is Explained.

That Turkey, as well as Bulgaria, has thrown out hints of willingness to accept separate peace with the entente was admitted in diplomatic circles today.

Both nations are suspicious that Germany and Austria-Hungary plan to utilize them as pawns in any peace game that can be initiated. The result is that both are believed here to be endeavoring to find a way to benefit themselves even though in doing so they abandon the war Realization of these facts were responsible for the recent visit of the Kaiser to the Sultan and Bulgaria's King.

TWO KILLED IN WRECK

Engineer Frank Larmond and Fireman James L. Johnson Die From Injuries Received Yesterday.

Frank Larmond, of Larmond, Orange county, one of the most trusted engineers on the entire Southern Railway system, and his fireman, James L. Johnson, colored, of Alexandria, died yesterday afternoon at the University Hospital, Charlottesville, from injuries sustained when northbound passenger train No. 38, the New York-New Orleans limited, crashed into No. 16, a northbound local, just as the latter was clearing a siding near Larmond, near Orange, about 7 o'clock yesterday morning.

J. O. Pollard, of Strasburg, baggage man on the local and six postal clerks who were in the mail car of No. 38, O. L. Southard, W. L. Wescott, J. H. Boyer, R. C. Poindexter, P. C. Cooper, and B. N. Brown, received slight injuries. The passengers were considerably shaken up.

The accident occurred at the north end of the switch in Caves Cut. The local, which had taken a siding to allow northbound passenger train No. 42 to pass, undertook to follow 42 into the northbound main line. Before it could clear the siding along came 38, whose engine demolished the local's baggage car. The two passenger cars on the local toppled over against the embankment while the engine and first two coaches of the limited turned over on the southbound track.

Engineer Larmond was pinned under his engine cab for 40 minutes. Despite the fact that he was scalded from head to foot and had his left leg crushed and left arm broken, he coolly directed the work of his rescuers.

The accident occurred near Larmond, a station named after the engineer, and within sight of his farm. Mrs. Larmond was summoned to the scene and accompanied her husband to Charlottesville on the special which brought the three injured men to hospitals after they had been attended by Dr. F. G. Scott, of Orange, and an army surgeon who was a passenger on the wrecked local.

The engineer lived for three hours after reaching the hospital, never once losing consciousness. Time and again he said to his wife: "It was not my fault, they gave me a clear board."

Larmond was of French extraction and was 61 years of age. He was a native of Orange county, and resided in Alexandria many years. He entered the Southern's employ as a track hand at the age of 15,

His record as an engineer for 35 years was not excelled by that of any engineman on the Washington and Danville division. He was nearly always called upon to handle the President's specials over his division. On numerous occasions he hauled Roosevelt to and from his hunting lodge, Pine Knot, in Orange county.

Larmond was twice married. His first wife was Miss Medorah Jones, of Alexandria. Of this union there are two living children, Mrs. A. E. Slaymaker, and Mrs. W. G. Mayer, of Braddock Heights. Alexandria county. Five years ago he married Miss Mollie Rawlings, of Orange.

Mr. Larmond was a member of Andrew Jackson Lodge, No. 120, A. F. and A. M.; Mount Vernon Chapter, Royal Arch Masons; Old Dominion Commandery, No. 14, Knights Templar; Acca Temple, of the Mystic Shrine. He had announced his intention to retire from the railway service within a year to make his home on his farm, near Orange.

Larmond's body was taken last night to Orange.

Fireman Johnson lived until nearly 6 o'clock yesterday evening. He was badly scalded by escaping steam and was conscious only at intervals. His body was sent to his home in Alexandria.

The Southern's double track was blocked for more than twelve hours and it was necessary to detour all Southern and certain Chesapeake and Ohio trains via Danville.

The funeral of Mr. Larmond will be conducted to Demaine's undertaking parlors at 10:30 tomorrow morning and the funeral will be held from Christ church at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Rev. [illegible] Moulton will officiate and the interment will be in the Presbyterian cemetery.

Remington had his opposing man rolling on the ground all the time like a barrel, while he scored two touchdowns with long forward passes. Rowen made the other touchdown for Alexandria thru tackle. WOMAN SENT TO JAIL.

Little Daughter is Turned Over to the State Board of Charities and Correction.

Kate Applen and her little daughter, Frances, were in the Police Court this morning to answer the charge of larceny. The child, according to the evidence, had stolen dresses, etc., belonging to Mrs. Bennett's little daughter and turned them over to her mother, which, the policeman alleged, the mother was endeavoring to secrete when he entered her room.

Mrs. Applen, it will be remembered, and her daughter figured in the Police Court some time ago when several rings were stolen from Mrs. Fred P. Russell, in the Fairfax apartments.

Justice Caton ordered the child to be turned over to the State Board of Charities and Correction, and the mother was sentenced to serve thirty days in jail.

FROM "SOMEWHERE" IN FRANCE

Letter From Sergeant Rinke to an Alexandria Friend.

The Gazette is permitted to publish the following from Sergeant Rinke, formerly stationed at Fort Washington, near this city, who recently went to France with his regiment, and has written to Mr. Geo. Bontz, of Alexandria:

Dear Friend George.

Just a few lines to let you know we got over O. K. Never saw anything that looked like a submarine. Sorry I can't say where we are but I know and it will not be very long before the Germans know we are here. They bring in about 1,000 German prisoners every other day. Can see them go past here every day, and we see them working all around the camp. All you hear about them in the papers is about right. They are a bad lot. Was talking to a French soldier today and he was telling me how 18 German soldiers came to his house, took what they liked, and after they mistreated his wife, the whole 18, then they cut the hands off the baby and also cut his wife open. This is true as the French soldier can prove it. He was crying just like a little baby when he was telling me and I believe it, as you can hear some worse things than that here. You don't get all of it in the papers as it is not fit to print. We have a fine camp, and all the boys like it, too. Will write a longer letter later.

PAID FINE OF $50 EACH

Federal Agents and Alexandria Policemen Raid House of Eva Baker Early Yesterday Morning.

Agents for the Department of justice, assisted by Sergeant Scott and Officers Kerns, Campbell, Miller and Reed, shortly before 1 o'clock yesterday morning raided the house owned and occupied by Eva Baker, 316 north Lee street, and took in custody the Baker woman and two other women, together with two soldiers and a marine. The Baker woman was charged with conducting a disorderly house and the others with disorderly conduct. All were held except one soldier, who was released on his own recognizance.

The agents for the Department of Justice came to this city in an automobile.

The parties were brought before the Police Court this morning, when Robinson Moncure appeared as their counsel.

There was no evidence to show that Eva Baker was conducting a disorderly house, she alleging that the men found in her house had sought lodging for the night and were not in the company of women when found by the officers.

W. I. Allen, a sailor, however, was found in a room with a woman named Beatrice Harvey, but it was contended that they were man and wife. This was not proven to the satisfaction of the court and Justice Caton imposed a fine of $50 each upon the couple. A few minutes later a crisp one-hundred dollar bill was placed upon the desk. The soldiers who had been taken in the net were dismissed.

There was to be another scene, however, in the drama which came unexpectedly when Deputy U. S. Marshal Schoeni took the Baker and Harvey woman in custody, under a warrant charging the former with violating federal statutes in keeping a house of ill-fame. The women were taken before U. S. Commissioner Mankin when the governor agents who were not present in the Police Court, produced a material evidence against the accused. They said six men entered the house early yesterday morning, and when the agents knocked for admission the door was not opened for ten minutes, which would have enabled the men and women to extricate themselves from any compromising conditions. When the government agents entered the house they found men, apparently asleep, on lounges, and the rooms they subsequently entered had the appearances of having been occupied by pairs.

Commissioner Mankin held Eva Baker for the action of the United States Court. He fixed her bond at $500, which she gave for her appearance before that tribunal. The Harvey woman was released.

Tonight at the Richmond.

"Arms and the Girl," the Paramount photoplay which appears at the Richmond theatre tonight follows closely the stage version which met with such success a few years ago. Billie Burke is the star. Briefly, the plot is as follows. An American girl, stranded in Belgium at the opening of the present war, innocently exchanges her passport with a Russian girl—a spy. Another American—a young man, also helps the Russian girl by the loan of his automobile. When the Germans seize the town the two Americans who have not been able to escape are held for complicity, especially the man who is ordered to be shot. "The Girl," saves him by declaring him to be the fiance she has been waiting for, and as if to prove her statement, the German general orders the two to be married at once. This is done and the two young people find themselves in a most embarrassing position. Altogether "Arms and the Girl" is one of the most charmingly humorous and vivid photoplays of the season.

LIBERTY LOAN DAY

Four Thousand Expected to Participate in Parade in This City on Wednesday Next.

Reports indicate that if all take part who have signified their intention to do so, the Liberty Loan Day parade to be held in this city on Wednesday of this week will be one of the largest ever witnessed here.

Colonel McCloskey has consented to permit the 1200 members of the Twelfth Artillery Regiment and band to come here for the parade. There will be at least 1500 scholars from the Alexandria public schools. It is expected that the 250 ministers, who will be here in attendance at the Presbyterian assembly, will also be in the procession, together with another hundred of business men of the city, the fire department, Boy Scouts and other private citizens. An effort is being made to have a half holiday declared at the various railroad offices in order that the clerks employed there may have a place in the line.

Every person in the city is invited to take part and thereby lend their presence in making the day worthy of Alexandria in every way. Representative Carlin will preside at the mass meeting to be held immediately following the outdoor demonstration and a speaker of national prominence will deliver the address.

Route of Parade.

The military will form on Russell Road, right resting on King street All other units will form on Prince street, right resting on King and West streets. The procession will move down King street to Fairfax street, to Cameron, to Washington, where the artillery from St. Asaph will go north to camp. All other units will move south on Washington street to the Mounment where the addresses will be delivered.

All are requested to put out flags on the buildings along the line of march.

Earnest Work Being Done in the Campaign.

The Liberty Loan committee, both ladies and gentlemen, are doing earnest, energetic work in pushing the sale of bonds. Leo P. Harlow spoke at the Richmond theatre and Robert L. Payne at the Surprise theatre on Saturday evening. Tonight Miss Rose M. MacDonald will address the people at the Richmond and Miss Lucy M. Graves will speak at the Surprise, and it is expected that some lady will speak at each theatre every evening during the rest of the week.

A preliminary report of the purchases of bonds made in Alexandria indicates that approximately fifty per cent of those bought so far have been taken by women.

Does this mean that the women are more patriotic than the men of the city? This is no time to be found in the ranks of the "slackers." Do your bit and do it quick. Alexandria now has some of its boys "over there" somewhere in France. Shall we let them fight alone with their guns, or shall we help them fight with our dollars?

Buy that bond.

THE ANGEL OF DEATH.

Azrael made six visits to Alexandria homes yesterday. Three of the four were unexpected, while in the case of the fourth the sufferer had for some time been waiting the last scene of all which ends life's strange eventful story.

Frank Larmond, one of the most generally known and popular engineers of the Southern Railway, was homeward bound on the fast New York and New Orleans train, when his life was nearly snuffed out suddenly by a frightful accident. His fireman, a colored man named Johnson, was also fatally injured, both dying after having been placed in a hospital at Charlottesville.

John R. Edelen, an Alexandria septuagenarian also well-known and popular passed away suddenly while on a visit to relatives in Washington.

George P. Johansen, widely known to the traveling public, having for years been agent and train dispatcher of the electric railway, paid the debt of nature after a long illness.

Miss Leslie Rae Baggett, a popular young woman of Alexandria passed away after an illness beginning last January, during which time her condition had fluctuated, sometimes causing great anxiety to her relatives and friends, and at others causing them to cling to Hope, all that Pandora saved in her imprudence.

The friends and acquaintances of those at whose doors crape is now fluttering sincerely express their regrets at the loss of dear ones. Of course, nothing can be said now which can in any way gild their sorrows. Time only can blunt the keen edge of affliction. Hence we can only read and believe that "They who sow in tears shall reap in joy."

Since the above was written we learn that Mrs. Emma Robey, wife of Robert Robey, another old resident of this city, passed away at the Home of the Little Sisters of the Poor in Washington yesterday. Mrs. Robey will be remembered as one of the daughters of the late Bartholomew Delphey, who at one time was one of the night watchmen of Alexandria, and who conducted a butcher's stall in our market in by-gone days. He was also sexton of the Second Presbyterian Church many years ago.

SCARCITY OF TEACHERS.

As was noted a few weeks ago, the supply of teachers for the public schools is becoming serious in many places. Baltimore and Washington are experiencing difficulty in securing capable teachers, while Alexandria has been confronted with the problem for some time.

The high cost of living at this time and the steady rise of everything needed naturally inclines teachers to seek positions which command more pay than that offered for services in the public schools. The City School Board of Alexandria has been subjected to much inconvenience this year not only in securing teachers but in retaining them. The committee on teachers with the City Superintendent has managed to fill in the gaps with substitutes, and, so far, they have been enabled to keep the schools in operation until more satisfactory conditions can be brought about. It may be said in this connection that the school officials should receive the support of the entire community in this work, and not adverse criticism, which almost invariably comes from people who could not handle the situation were it forced upon them. Not only should parents do their part in this connection but teach their children that they have much to learn and avoid adverse comments before them.

The Rockingham County teachers at their annual convention Saturday planned a campaign to secure better salaries. Ten schools in the county are vacant, because teachers cannot be found to fill them at the rate of pay offered them.

The minimum pay of teachers holding first grade certificates is $45 a month, while some of those holding second grade certificates get only $32. As a result, many teachers have secured places elsewhere and others have entered the service of the government as stenographers.

BUY "A SCRAP OF PAPER."

Liberty Bonds are "scraps of paper" which Germany cannot tear up, and which are loaded with retribution for her. The soul of the murdered Belgian treaty lives again in them. They pledge us and the world to all the things against which Germany is waging war.

These scraps of paper spell Germany's ruin. Come, buy a scrap of paper that will take the place of the scrap that Germany trampled under foot more than three years ago, that will teach national malefactors that honor and humanity are not idle words, but are the most potent and indestructible forces known among men.

The Baltimore Sun in this connection refers to the fact that Germany tore up as "a scrap of paper," her plighted faith when she invaded Belgium. She virtually announced when she did this that national honor was but a name to her, that nothing would bind her, that she had a supreme contempt for things that have heretofore been regarded as sacred by civilized nations. That deliberate and carefully planned crime was merely the opening scene in a drama that had been worked out and rehearsed in private for years. Everything that has followed has been a logical and related part of this opening scene. We were surprised as the tragedy proceeded at the fresh succession of horrors at the amazing developments of this drama of frightfulness. But the German Government was not. All these things were a part of its program. They were all written down beforehand, they were put on the stage at the time appointed, so far as it was possible to do so. When Germany cut the Belgian treaty into fragments with her sword, she cut into bits pretty much everything else for which civilization has stood for centuries past.

YOUNG GIRLS AND KHAKI.

The Richmond Journal calls attention to the fact that many thoughtless girls pass into delirium at the sight of a khaki uniform. The Journal, among other things, says epidemics of immorality in the vicinity of mobilization camps are due in large measure to the maudlin sentimentality of brainless young women. Should twenty-five thousand industrial workers be sent to any city in overalls tomorrow it is not probable that moral conditions would be out of the ordinary. But let those same men put on uniforms, and hundreds of women will lose their heads, completely, and in so doing allow their lives to be wrecked, and to no purpose whatever.

Such was the opinion voiced Saturday by members of the conference of representative women held in the Jefferson Hotel, Richmond with the Virginia war council, to consider social welfare work in connection with the war. It is the giddy girl losing her head over the glamour and romance of a uniform who it is most difficult to reach and restrain, it was pointed out. Having practically lost her mind in foolish fancy, this kind of girl does not possess any logical standards to which an appeal can be made. When it is too late then common sense sets in, but with it realization of a wrecked life.

To the silliness of this form of feminine vanity also belongs the ridiculous manner in which certain girls attire themselves, it was pointed out in the addresses.

KAISER PRAISES TURKS.

Will Join Germans in Kultur at War's End, he Tells Sultan.

Amsterdam Oct. 22.—A Sofia dispatch states that Emperor William arrived there Friday from Constantinople. The emperor dined with King Ferdinand and the royal family at Castle Vrana, near Sofia, and resumed his journey to Germany at midnight Friday.

Constantinople, Oct. 22.—Emperor William last night attended a banquet at the palace of Dolmahagtche. The guests included Sultan Mohammed V, all the Turkish princes and members of the cabinet and Dr. Richard von Kuehlmann, the German foreign secretary. Responding to the sultan's toast, the German emperor said:

"Yesterday it was my privilege to stand on ground where Turkish forces by land and sea performed immortal, glorious deeds, victoriously frustrating the enemy's assault on the heart of the empire and rendering immense service to our common cause.

"Anafarta, Ari Burnu and Sedd-Ul-Bahr will ever remain glorious pages in Turkish history. It is a proud honor for me to come in personal touch with such an army through my appointment as field marshal.

"I gather from your majesty's words that the Turkish army and people have the same resolute confidence as have the German army and people to continue the war to a happy conclusion which will assure the rights and interests of our empires. In unshakable loyalty, the Germans and Turks will perservere shoulder to shoulder with the Austrians, Hungarians and Bulgarians until our enemies recognize the usefulness of their continuance of the war. In peace time our peoples will be welded still more firmly in the peaceful work of kultur."

London, Oct. 22.—Emperor William is expected to return to Berlin on Monday for the birthday of the German empress, according to a dispatch from Amsterdam to the Exchange Telegraph Company. While in a capital the emperor will have a number of political conferences to which Prince von Buelow and Dr. von Bethmann Hollweg, the former imperial Chancellors, have been invited.

Arrangements have been made, the dispatch adds, for the emperor to visit the German naval bases and he also probably will go to Helgoland.

SYNOD MEETS TUESDAY

Annual Session of Presbyterians Will Be Held in the Old First Presbyterian Church on South Fairfax Street.

The Synod of Virginia of the Presbyterian Church in the United States (Southern Presbyterian Church), will meet in annual session in the Old First Presbyterian Church on south Fairfax street tomorrow night, and will continue in session until Friday. The total number of members of the churches included in the synod are 51,003. The territory of this synod includes all of the State of Virginia (except that portion of the southwestern part belonging to the Synod of Appalachia), a part of West Virginia and Maryland.

The statistics to be submitted to the session of the synod of this year will show a substantial growth in membership and large contributions to the several causes of the synod and the assembly during the year just closed.

Among the many causes to come before the synod, none will be more important than that of Christian education. At this time the department of Christian education of the Southern Presbyterian Church is making special effort to secure the establishment of a chair for the teaching of the Bible in every educational institution in the church and the endowment of all of these institutions of learning, in honor of the four hundredth anniversary of the Protestant Reformation, which is being celebrated the present year. In this special effort for the cause, all of the Protestant denominations have united for the purpose of advancing the work of these institutions, and especially along the line of giving the proper impetus to the study of the Bible. It is probable that Rev. Henry H. Sweets, D. D., of Louisville, Ky., the assembly's secretary of Christian education and ministerial relief, will deliver the leading address before the Synod of Virginia in the interest of Christian education. He will speak to the synod also in the interest of ministerial relief.

TRAINS COLLIDE HEAD-ON.

Passenger and Freight Come Together, Killing Fireman and Injuring Others.

Winchester, Va., Oct. 22.—In the most disastrous wreck ever known on this end of the Cumberland Valley Railroad on Friday night, Passenger Fireman Charles Matthews, twenty-eight years old, of Strasburg, Va., was fatally injured and died shortly after being extricated and removed to a hospital. Engineman G. F. Myers, of Chambersburg, Pa., of the same train was injured by jumping, but was able to leave the hospital this morning. Many of the passengers were bruised and severely shaken up.

The wreck occurred just at the edge of the city limits, when an extra freight, known as the "apple train," came upon the main track from a siding as the evening passenger train from Harrisburg, Pa., rounded a curve in a deep cut. The passenger engine struck the monster freight locomotive head on, with terrific impact, and was hurled from the track, landing half way across the North Frederick Pike. Fireman Matthew's arm was torn off, his skull fractured and his chest was crushed in. His arm was left dangling from a splintered board. Engineman Myers was caught under the engine as it fell over, but managed to crawl out through a cloud of escaping steam and smoke. The front of the freight engine was mashed in, but it stuck to the rails. The mail, express and baggage cars of the passenger train were derailed. Charles Bower, of Hagerstown, Md., was engineman, and Elmer Cogleman, of Cleaversburg, Pa., was fireman on the freight train. Both escaped injury by jumping. The freight was supposed to have been on a siding waiting for the passenger train to pass. The passenger was in charge of Conductor William Kuhns, of Harrisburg, Pa. Members of both train crews were held for a coroner's hearing.

Fitzsimmons Dies.

Chicago, Oct. 22.—Courageously fighting until the final bell, Bob Fitzsimmons, former world's champion heavyweight pugilist, and one of the greatest fighters that ever held a world's title, died at the Michael Reese Hospital early today. Death was caused by an attack of double pneumonia, which seized "Fitz" while he was performing in vaudeville here.

"Fitz" went to the hospital last Thursday, and it was said then that his recovery was impossible. Refusing to admit defeat, however, he battled with death until his strength was exhausted. His condition changed for the worse yesterday, and early today the end came.

Mrs. Fitzsimmons, who is an evangelist, and to whom he recently was reconciled after an estrangement, was with the former champion in his final illness.

Besides his widow, he is survived by one son, Bob, jr., who was a partner with his father in a vaudeville sketch.

Turns Highwayman.

Newport News, Va., Oct. 22.—Herman Barfield, a 16 year old boy in knee trousers, Saturday was sentenced to the State Reform School by Police Justice E. S. Robinson, for holding up two grown men at the point of a revolver and ordering them to "stand and deliver." The boy admitted his guilt, but gave no explanation of his action.

C. W. Gray and B. W. Fortescue, were held up in the Casino Park about 10 o'clock Saturday night by the boy. Both put their hands above their head when confronted with the pistol. While the boy was searching Fortescue, Gray grappled with him and subdued him after a struggle. It was later found that Barfield's revolver would not shoot.

Suffragettes in Jail.

Twelve suffragette pickets of the National Woman's Party, who refused to work while prisoners at the District workhouse at Occoquan, are today inmates of the District of Columbia jail where they will serve the time of their sentences.

The recommendation of Superintendent Whittaker of Occoquan that the prisoners be put in "solitary confinement" has not been carried out however, it was stated by the National Woman's Party today.

Have You Seen the New Trimmed Hats at $7.50

Small styles hold their own, but there is a steady advance in the popularity of the medium and larger styles, and of course all these differences make for a great variety of selection.

Velvets of many kinds, panne, mirrow and poan have been called into use. In many cases the hat has very little trimming besides the self material.

There are such rich, dark colorings to select from that it is difficult to say which is the prettiest, and plenty of black, of course.

Kill Stripped Captives After Falsely Promising Liberty.

New York, Oct. 22.—Harry Lauder, the Scotch comedian, appearing in a serious role yesterday afternoon at the Hippodrome before a vast audience of men and women, moved his hearers deeply as he appealed to America as "Britain's big brother" to give generously, freely, gladly, withholding nothing, to crush Prussianism.

"A previous speaker," said Mr. Lauder, "stated that I would speak to you for the soldiers of Scotland. Friends, let me tell you that little Scotland needs no one to speak for her." A mighty roar of applause greeted this tribute.

"I could give you hundreds of reasons why Prussianism must be crushed utterly, as I have been through the trenches, where I learned much. What I tell you I know to be true.

"My boy (the son who later was killed in action, although Mr. Lauder did not refer to that) came home invalided. I asked him, "What kind of a man is the enemy, son? And this is what he told me:

"'Sixty of our soldiers were captured. They were of the Forty-second Highlanders. The Germans made those 60 brave men strip stark naked and stand at attention all night in the rain. In the morning an officer came to them and told them they were to return to their own trench across No Man's Land. They started, and when halfway across German machine guns opened fire and killed every last one of them.'

"One of our men I found in a hospital," the speaker continued. "His face was half gone. He told me that, with some comrade, he captured a German trench and picked up a fountain pen in a dugout. A few hours later when he unscrewed the cap of the pen it exploded, tearing away his face.

"These are samples of the things that every one of us must have part in crushing utterly from the face of the earth."

TO INSPIRE TERROR.

Teuton Troops in China Told to Outdo Hun, Says Dr. Wood.

Dr. Charles Wood, pastor of the Church of the Covenant, Washington, previous to his sermon yesterday morning, announced that in the future all unoccupied pews would be given to strangers waiting for seats. The arrangement is made especially for men in uniform.

A group of 40 officers and men from Fort Myer, Belvoir and the American University camps were at the church yesterday morning and were entertained at the University Club afterward by the army and navy committee of the congregation.

Dr. Wood preached on Martin Luther, recalling that 400 years ago this October Luther began the Protestant reformation, when he nailed his theses on the door of the castle church at Wittenberg.

"Our thoughts of Germany are colored now with tales of atrocities," said Dr. Wood. "When German troops were sent to China they were instructed to make the German name more terrible than that of the Huns. They have followed orders, wherever they have gone. Today no word in our vocabulary is so terrible to mankind as that of Prussianism."

WILL NOT FIGHT AMERICA.

Bulgars Want U. S. Friendship, Says Minister Here.

Washington, Oct. 22.—Bulgarians will not fight American soldiers in Europe, Stephen Panaretoff, Bulgarian Minister has stated.

"There is not the slightest chance that the Bulgars will ever consent to shed American blood on the battlefield in this war," he said.

The Minister cited the attitude of the Bulgarian nationalist party, which cabled the statement yesterday.

"We do not wish America to take our side, but we desire that America should create in the Balkans a situation which will be in harmony with the principles of national unification, international justice and true democracy."

Bulgarian people welcomed America's entrance into the war, according to Panaretoff, "because they feel that, regardless of what comes, they will now receive a square deal."

SENATOR'S WARNING.

German Propaganda, Hurtful to America, is Exposed.

The insidious character of the German propaganda, designed evidently to lessen the support of the people of the country—particularly women—of the Government's war policies, has aroused leading members of Congress.

Although the effects of this propaganda have not, investigation has disclosed, been hurtful to America's cause or detracted in the slightest from the justice of the measures taken to "make the world safe for democracy," officials and statesmen are determined that the falsity of statements circulated by the propagandists shall not go unchallenged.

Senator Willard Saulsbury, of Delaware, president pro tempore of the Senate and member of the Senate Committe on Foreign Relations, is among those who have been incensed by the activities of the pro-German element in the United States. Commenting today upon the transparent attempts of alien enemies to weaken the nation's war machinery, now rapidly becoming formidable, Senator Saulsbury said:

"The most cruel statements of this kind are those which represent the character of the fighting on the French front. To read some of the statements which have been made about the losses of men on the French front, one would suppose there had never been such casualties in warfare. As a matter of fact, the percentage of losses now is less than those during our civil war.

I class the attempt to frighten our people and to work upon their fears and sympathies with the "Milk for German Babies."

WHAT WILSON MEANT.

Facts Laid Bare on Flag Day Regarding Espionage, Conspiracy and General Plotting of German Government.

Just what President Wilson meant in his reply to the Pope when he referred to Germany as an irresponsible government, secretly planning to dominate the world without regard to sacred obligations of nations or principles of international honor, was made quite clear yesterday in an official document made public entitled, "The President's Flag Day Address with Evidences of Germany's Plans."

The President's address was delivered in June, at the foot of the Washington Monument, in the shadow of the memorial to the immortal President who led the land to liberty. Throughout, President Wilson referred to Germany's iniquitous disregard of all human rights and privileges. This address is now presented with deadly parallel, with the circumstantial proof that the President made no statement that he had not ample evidence already before him to warrant.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Mexico will sever relations with Germany within a very few days if the present plan of the vast majority of senators materializes. That it will materialize is not doubted in any quarter. Public opinion throughout Mexico has taken a sharp and decided turn in favor of the allies within the last few weeks, and this new sentiment is growing stronger daily.

Fire started in the army base hospital, at Camp Devens, Ayer, Mass., early yesterday, jeopardizing the lives of 300 soldier patients. By prompt action and military efficiency on the part of the recruits, patients in the several structures forming the medical and surgical sections of the national army camp were saved. The flames were extinguished before they could reach to the main hospital buildings. The origin of the fire will be investigated.

William H. Watson, 35, of Craig, Mo., after seriously wounding his mother in law, Mrs. Mary E. Buckley, 70 years old, yesterday morning, shot and killed himself. Watson came to Townsend in an effort to adjust divorce proceedings against him by his wife, but failing, because of Mrs. Watson's determination to seek a separation, turned a .38-caliber automatic revolver on her mother and himself.

Weighing 202 pounds and with a girth of 42 3-4 inches, former President Theodore Roosevelt received newspaper representatives and posed for camera men and moving picture photographers yesterday afternoon at a health farm at Stamford, Conn. The former President will return to Oyster Bay today. The sight of one of his eyes was destroyed while boxing several years ago.

Jeremiah Rowe, 48, boilermaker for 27 years at the Frick works, Hagerstown, Md., was killed Saturday night when struck by a Western Maryland Railway passenger train at Waynesboro, both legs being cut off and his skull fractured. His wife and nine children survive. His death is the third by violence in his family. His daughter, Hazel, was killed at Mount Airy while coasting, and his brother in law, John Wade, was killed by a train.

The Roumanian city of Galatz on the left bank of the Danube, has just been raked by one of the most atrocious bombardments of the war. The most powerful German long-range guns sent into the city a murderous hail of shells, directing their main attack against the Red Cross hospital known as "Notre Dame." In this hospital were at the time of the bombardment 650 wounded, 50 nurses, a number of nuns and several priests. Forty-two shells hit the hospital inflicting considerable damage to the chapel, in which the wounded are quartered. The Roumanian government promptly addressed an energetic protest to all neutral and allied governments against this violation of humanitarian principles.

Stage coaches may again be seen running between towns in Switzerland. Owing to the ever decreasing amount of coal arriving from Germany the Swiss government has been forced to suppress half the number of passenger trains in Switzerland beginning today, while those trains in service will not be heated. The Geneva Tribune learns that the entire suspension of passenger service is being seriously discussed. Americans and wealthy Swiss are leaving their villas for hotels while nearly half the population of Switzerland is being aided by the government which is selling food at cost prices.

United States Senator Paul O. Husting died at 10:35 o'clock last night at a farm house near Milwaukee, Wis., after being fatally wounded by his brother, Gustave, while duck hunting yesterday. The charge of buskshot tore away part of the senator's left lung. He was carried in an unconscious condition to a nearby farm house and all surgeons from nearby cities were rushed to the scene.

RUSSIAN PEACE TERMS.

Workmen's Council Adopts Plans "That Must End War."

Petrograd, Oct. 22.—After many months of deliberations, the Central Committee of the Council of Workmen's and Soldiers' delegates, the most powerful political and social body in Russia, has agreed upon what it considers a fair basis of the democratic peace that must end the war. They will be submitted by delegates and through other channels to every nation in the world.

Here are the terms:

NORTH SEA RAID.

All Except Captain Killed on One Scandinavian Ship.

London, Oct. 22.—One hundred and fifty lives were lost on Wednesday when five Norwegian, one Danish and three Swedish vessels were sunk by two German raiders in the North Sea.

The British admiralty statement on Saturday stated that a total of 135 officers and men of the British destroyers Mary Rose and Strongbow were lost when those two vessels were sunk by raiders. The Mary Rose and the Strongbow were convoying the merchantmen when the attack occurred.

Christiania, Oct. 22.—The Aftenposten has definitely ascertained that 16 Norwegians, 17 Swedes and 87 Englishmen were killed in the convoy action on Wednesday, but adds that the total number probably is much greater. The entire crew of one steamer, consisting of 11 men, were all killed except the captain. Twenty men from the Wistur were saved, but of the crew of the Wikander only the captain and the 3d officer were saved and the remaining 17 are believed to have been killed Of this number, three were women.

VICTORY IN 1918, SAYS FLOOD.

Germany Will Be Whipped, He Declares in Address at Bristol.

Bristol, Tenn., Oct. 22.—That Germany will be whipped to her knees within a year and that it will be a victory for which America and her soldiers and sailors will be liberally credited, was the prediction of Representative Hal D. Flood, chairman of the foreign relations committee in the lower house of Congress, in a speech here Saturday night.

The occasion was the opening in southwest Virginia of the campaign of Westmoreland Davis, the Democratic nominee for the Virginia governorship who also spoke.

Representative Flood said it would have been a national disgrace had the United States failed to enter the war.
